This classic Kingston property truly offers a remarkable residential opportunity! Currently set up with the first floor as commercial use, with 2,000 ft2 luxurious living quarters on the second and third floor, to convert the expansive first floor and finished basement to full residential use could create a truly extraordinary home! Already fit out with custom crown moldings, beautiful woodwork, and gas fireplaces, just a few artistic strokes to make it a supreme custom home! Only once in a great while does a crown jewel like this become available! Built at the turn of the 20th century, this solid brick masterpiece with bluestone lintels and wrap around porches was expanded in the 60's, then fully renovated, including plumbing, electric, windows, doors, custom trim, and woodwork, in 2019. A state of the art multi-display A/V system with remote operated camera was installed at this time, and conveys. The Ground level, historically used for commercial purposes, could be retained as commercial, or with change of use, converted to residential. Brilliant light, custom crown moldings, and Swarovski crystal chandeliers in this expansive space provides a great canvas for many uses. Fully ADA compliant, there is also a freight elevator that goes from the finished basement to the upper levels. The second and third floor of the building hosts a Class A living space, with gleaming hardwood floors, eat-in chef's kitchen, and open floor plan living room dining room area with gas fireplace, perfect for entertaining, two full bathrooms, two full bathrooms, and a master bedroom of generous proportions. The living area opens into a california room with wall to wall sliding glass doors that open to a deck with superb views of the Mountains to the West. All of this is capped with a fully furnished attic room that could be studio/office space, a second bedroom, or a hobby room. The exterior of the building, with its wrap around porches, also provides parking for in excess of 40 cars, in addition to the 3 car garage. This property has been impeccably maintained, and is in "like-new" condition.
