Great visibility and high-volume foot traffic on Woodstock's main street make this iconic, beautifully maintained building the perfect place for a restaurant or business. For decades, cafes in this location, including the much-loved Joshua's, have drawn locals and visitors alike. High ceilings, large windows, and the fantastic corner location provide plenty of light and atmosphere. Zoned HC (Hamlet Commercial), this 2-story building can serve as a restaurant, retail shop, office, nightclub, or hospitality venue, or a combination of the above due to separate entrances (one upper, one lower). The 3360 square-foot space includes a street-level dining room, fully equipped kitchen with walk-in cooler, and waitstaff station, as well as a large open room upstairs that can be used for additional seating or as a wine bar, craft-beer bar, coffee/internet cafe, or dessert spot. The second floor includes a full-service bar, stockroom/prep area, and office with wine and liquor storage. There are two restrooms, one on each floor. Parking options include surrounding streets and a municipal lot directly behind the building. A private driveway/parking area can be used for backdoor deliveries. The building is currently rented and operating as a cafe, with a lease that ends December 2024. (Rental income is $5000/month.) Woodstock has never been livelier. The area's natural beauty and enduring fame continue to draw tourists from around the world, and the recent influx of creatives and remote workers only adds to the area's economy and vibrancy.
